The Academic Procession and Regalia

Traditional commencement academic procession and regalia date back to the Middle Ages. Voluminous gowns were worn to ward off the damp and cold of medieval buildings; mortar boards were used as hats. When those styles were abandoned by laymen, clergy and scholars continued to wear the robes, with variations in style and color identifying different monastic orders. The bachelor, master, and doctor gowns differ stylistically in cut and decorative motif.

Today the hood is especially important in identifying the academic achievements of the wearer. Originally, the hoods were worn over the head. A long tassel is attached to the middle point of the top of the cap to drape over the edge of the mortar board. Tassels may be black, gold, or a color appropriate to the academic field of the wearer. The colors of the hood lining indicate the institution granting the degree. The width of the velvet trim indicates the highest degree held; the color of the trim indicates the field of study.

An intercollegiate code representing different departments of learning has set the standards for academic dress in the United States. The colors are assigned as follows:

Agriculture	Maize	Medicine	Green
Arts, Letters, Humanities	White	Music	Pink
Business Administration	Drab	Nursing	Apricot
Dentistry	Lilac	Oratory	Silver Gray
Economics	Copper	Pharmacy	Olive Green
Education	Light Blue	Philosophy	Dark Blue
Engineering	Orange	Physical Education	Sage Green
Fine Arts	Brown	Public Administration	Peacock Blue
Forestry	Russet	Public Health	Salmon Pink
Home Economics	Maroon	Science	Gold-Yellow
Journalism	Crimson	Social Science	Citron
Law	Purple	Theology or Divinity	Scarlet
Library Science	Lemon	Veterinary Science	Gray

The office of mace bearer is purely ceremonial. It derives from medieval times in England when an official was taking office or opening his court and needed a bodyguard. Then the mace, a formidable weapon, was held ready to protect the person of the dignitary.

From the sixteenth century in England and since colonial days in America, it has become a symbol of office only, and is carried by a distinguished member of the faculty. The mace bearer, who immediately precedes the president both entering and leaving the ceremony, while often not included in today's exercises, remains popular on the older campuses in the East.

At Cape Cod Community College, the academic regalia of the Board of Trustees correspond to doctoral caps and gowns with gold tassels; the colorful hoods lined with red display the College colors of silver and blue. Faculty robes signify the wearer's respective university and discipline. The mace, a gift of the Class of 1984, is borne by the Grand Marshal who leads the academic procession.

Invocation and Benediction

The Reverend John H. Williams is Senior Minister of The Federated Church of Hyannis, an interdenominational church located in downtown Hyannis. A native of New York City, graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and Drew Theological Seminary, he has served Methodist Churches in New Jersey and Ohio prior to coming to Massachusetts. He served at Grace Congregational United Church of Christ in Framingham and he has been at the Federated Church for six years. He is married and the father of two sons. Presently he is Vice President of the Cape Cod Council of Churches, Chairman of the Salvation Army Advisory Board and Chairman of the Cape Walk for the Homeless.

Addresses to the Graduates

Bernard J. Zanoni, president of the Student Senate, has provided enthusiastic leadership to the students of Cape Cod Community College. Active on College committees and at the College meeting, he has been an effective spokesman for students on such crucial issues as the search for a new administrative dean and the proposed tuition increase. He spearheaded the most successful March of Dimes fundraising effort ever held at the College, nearly doubling the highest previous total. His future plans include a bachelor's degree and a career in business.

Herbert I. Gross, Professor of Mathematics at Bunker Hill Community College and the Senior Lecturer at the M.I.T. Center for Advanced Engineering Study, has been a motivating force in the two-year college movement since 1958. His many years of dedication to the community college concept and his unique contributions in the area of educating non-traditional students led to his being named the "Outstanding Faculty Member" by the Association of Community College Trustees in 1986. In 1978 and 1979 the Volunteers of America recognized his talents by twice naming him the recipient of their "Educator of the Year" award. He graduated from Chelsea High School, attended the United States Coast Guard Academy, graduated from Brandeis University with distinction in mathematics, magna cum laude. He has produced a self-study course entitled "Calculus Revisited," complete with 17 volumes of study guides and 88 videotaped lectures, which has been used by over 35,000 engineers and technicians on five continents to refresh their skills in calculus and related topics.

Music for the Graduates

Historically, pipers have led troops into battle; today colorful inspirational sounds provide pageantry at a college commencement ceremony. Participants tonight are the Highland Light Scottish Pipe Band of Cape Cod — pipes and tenor, base and side drums. They are attired in quasi-military garb. This Band has been playing on Cape Cod for about twelve years.

The College Chorus is a long established campus institution drawing its membership from students, faculty, staff and the community. They rehearse twice weekly during each semester under the direction of Dr. Robert W. Kidd.

Excellence is no Act —
it is a Habit.
